Cindy Waasdorp of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices California Properties at the Forefront of Real Estate

Cindy Waasdorp of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices California Properties was honored as the #1 ranked agent in her office for her sales production and the number of transactions in 2013. The achievement ranked Waasdorp at the number three position in San Diego County and the number 16 position for her transactions last year, out of the brokerage's vast network of sales professionals spanning Southern California and the Central Coast.

“With Cindy’s in-depth knowledge of the San Diego real estate landscape and constant focus on the priorities of her clients, it is no surprise that she is on pace to repeat her achievement as the #1 agent in our office for her sales in 2014,” said Cliff Helbock, manager.

Known for her sense of responsibility to her clients and community involvement, Waasdorp has consistently ranked at the top one percent of the national market for her sales. She credits her success to her commitment to ethical business practices, coupled with her talent for delivering exceptional results for her clients.

An industry veteran with nearly three decades of experience, Waasdorp has continuously focused on enhancing the depth and range of services she offers her clients. The approach recently earned her San Diego Magazine’s “Five Star Best in Client Satisfaction” award for the seventh consecutive year.

The Five Star award is a result of a survey, in which agents were rated on their service, communication, marketing, and integrity. Only seven percent of San Diego’s 12,000 real estate agents were selected as award winners.
